

Nursing Accommodation Privacy Curtain for pumping only

General Guidelines for Candidate Use

Purpose:

In order to support the wellness and parenting needs of candidates, based upon recent COVID19 protocols and availability in most locations, we can provide a functional, private space dedicated for the purpose of expressing breast milk. Privacy is of our utmost concern in providing this space.

Each space includes:

Privacy curtain, comfortable chair and an electrical outlet. Nursing Persons' should provide their own breast pumps, attachments, and cleaning supplies. To ensure privacy, the curtain must be closed completely. The computer desk in the separate accommodations room may not be used to position equipment or supplies. To ensure privacy, the test taker must ensure the privacy curtain must be closed completely.

Are there any limitations on how the space may be used?

- Privacy curtain is dedicated for the purpose of expressing breast milk only
- Candidates are responsible for bringing their own breast pump and means of collecting and storing expressed milk. A refrigerator is not available to store expressed milk.
- Candidates personal items i.e. pump and cooler, may be stored in the accommodations room while testing. Please note test takers will be asked to show inside any carry containers for inspection to ensure it does not contain study notes or personal devices (cellphones, tablets, etc.) but will not be handled by the Test Center employees. Personal devices will remain in the Test Takers locker.
- The chair in the accommodations room is available for use; the Test Center Administrator will roll it inside the curtain when setting up the room. Additional table, chair or stool is subject to availability.
- The privacy curtain is "U" shaped and is not meant to enclose the desk located in the room.
- Please be advised the curtain is installed to completely block the Digital Video Recorder camera in the accommodations room.
- To ensure privacy, the curtain must be closed completely. The curtain wand makes it easy to open and close the curtain. Simply hold the wand and slide the curtain back and forth along the track.
- Test Takers will need to be inspected as per normal security procedures every time they enter the main test room.
- For cleanliness and out of courtesy for other users, it is the test takers responsibility to clean up any spills or other untidiness creating during use of the privacy curtain.
- Multiple candidates may be required to share the room throughout the day. Only one candidate can use the room at a given time. The test center staff will assist in coordinating usage.
