

Nursing Accommodation Private Space for pumping only

General Guidelines for Candidate Use

Purpose:

In order to support the wellness and parenting needs of candidates, based upon recent COVID19 protocols and availability in most locations, we can provide a functional, private space dedicated for the purpose of expressing breast milk. Privacy is of our utmost concern in providing this space.

Each space includes:

Comfortable chair and an electrical outlet. Nursing Persons' should provide their own breast pumps, attachments, and cleaning supplies. To ensure privacy, the test taker must keep the door locked completely while pumping.

Are there any limitations on how the space may be used?

- The private space is dedicated for the purpose of pumping only and not for live feeding of a child
- Candidates are responsible for bringing their own pump and means of collecting and storing expressed milk. A refrigerator is not available to store expressed milk.
- Candidates personal items i.e. pump and cooler, may be stored in the private space while testing. Please note test takers will be asked to show inside any carry containers for inspection to ensure it does not contain study notes or personal devices (cellphones, tablets, etc.) but will not be handled by the Test Center employees. Personal devices will remain in the Test Takers locker.
- The chair in the private space is available for use; the Test Center Administrator will roll it inside when setting up the room. Additional table, chair or stool is subject to availability.
- Please be advised that there will not be any Digital Video Recorder camera in any private space used during pumping.
- Test Takers will need to be inspected as per normal security procedures every time they enter the main test room.
- For cleanliness and out of courtesy for other users, it is the test takers responsibility to clean up any spills or other untidiness creating during use of the privacy curtain.
- Multiple candidates may be required to share the room throughout the day. Only one candidate can use the room at a given time. The test center staff will assist in coordinating usage.
- There may be more than one Nursing person in the test center on the same day we ask for cooperation in scheduling time in the private space. You will not be asked to share the space at the same time just agree to suitable times.
